

DANIEL JAY DAVIS
(November 17, 2021)

A few words about Dan Davis from Susan Davis, his widow:

We married in 1966, when Dan was an assistant professor at USC in California. In 1968, we moved to Israel and lived in Jerusalem for 50 years. He was in the School of Education at Hebrew University, where he originated a program of older kids tutoring younger ones in schools all over Israel and parts of the U.S. It had a huge impact on the children in both age groups and is still going strong.

We moved to the town of Modiin four years ago, next to our son, Matti. Dan died on 17 November, 2021, after a long illness, luckily clear until the end. He is survived by me, two sons and six grandchildren, all living nearby.
